The management of a crime scene requires to meet strict standards and protocols. Following these, the crime scene must be preserve carefully. The first agent arriving must protect the scene and set up a securiy perimeter with a police tape in order to prevent all un-authorised access.

Considering the expensive price of the tape, police use it several times without having an effective system for winding it back up.

However, there is no existing system for winding up the tape efficiently.This is why, as often, FORENSIC MATERIELS SOLUTIONS has found a way of adapting a plastic weel into a simple and efficient police tape reel.
